On the cover:

As Reclamation nears its 100th anniversary in June 2002, the cover shows President Theodore Roosevelt signing the Reclamation Act of 1902, putting into motion the construction of the first Reclamation project, Nevada's Newlands Project, in what is now the Mid-Pacific Region. Early 1900s construction projects and a 1920s beneficiary of Reclamation water on the left side are mirrored on the right by visions of today's Mid-Pacific Region. Clockwise from the top: Shasta Dam, electrical power lines, a Central Valley Project canal, and wetlands habitat.
